1. WELCOME MESSAGE

1.1 Greeting from President of the World Karate Federation

The entire Karate community will gather in Cairo, Egypt, from November 27 to 30, 2025, for the 2025 World Senior Individual Karate Championships. This event marks a new chapter in the history of our sport.

For the first time, the World Karate Championships are held as a dedicated individual competition, following the decision to separate karate's major events into team and individual formats. This follows the successful Karate Teams World Cup last year in Pamplona, Spain, which set the standard for what these focused events can achieve.

Cairo, long known as one of the key hubs for karate worldwide, now takes its place on the long list of honourable cities to host our biggest event. The city has already proven its strong connection to the sport through its consistent hosting of the Karate 1-Premier League. The passion of the local karate community and the quality of its events have made Cairo an essential stop on our international calendar.

On behalf of the World Karate Federation, I extend my sincere thanks to the Egyptian Karate Federation for their work in bringing this important event to life. I would especially like to recognise Mr. Mohamed Eldahrawy, President of the Egyptian Karate Federation, for his leadership and commitment. His efforts have played a key role in expanding the reach of karate in Egypt, Africa, and beyond.

I hope that, thanks to the dedication of our Egyptian hosts, athletes and delegations from all over the world will compete under the best possible conditions. We are certain that Cairo will provide an ideal stage for our sport's most talented competitors to perform at the highest level.

This championship is more than a competition. It is an opportunity to continue uniting the global karate family, to celebrate individual achievement, and to continue building the future of our sport.

I wish all participants and karate representatives the very best and look forward to an unforgettable event in Cairo.

Antonio Espinós Ortueta

President of the World Karate Federation

1.2 Greeting from President of the Egyptian Karate Federation

Mohamed El-Dahrawy

President Egyptian Karate Federation

Dear Participants,

The Egyptian Karate Federation is honored to host the World Karate Championships, Individual World Championships and Para-Karate World Championships, in Cairo, the capital of the Arab Republic of Egypt.

We would like to welcome you in our dear homeland, Egypt, and we would like to assure you that we would work hard on organizing this event on an exemplary level.

Moreover, we would like to welcome you to Egypt our hospitable country.

In addition, I would like to convey to you all, the welcoming of the Egyptian Government and its President Mr. AbdelFattah El Sisi for your participation in this championship.

Lastly, we do hope that you would have a nice stay here and enjoy the fair play in the Competitions to come in this championship.

Best wishes for all the participants in this event.

Mohamed El-Dahrawy

President of the Egyptian Karate Federation

WKF Executive Committee member

2. INTRODUCTION

The Karate World Championships (Individual World Championships) have a 2-year qualification period along with a quota allocation system of a total of 32 quotas per category. The Karate World Championships Competition System is composed of 2 phases: the Group Phase (Round-robin - Rr) and the Elimination Phase with no repechage. Each category will have 1 gold, 1 silver and 2 bronze medallists.

The Para-Karate World Championships will also be held during this event. National Federations can register up to 3 athletes per category. In the group system of the Para-Karate competition, groups of eight to twelve athletes are formed. In each round, the number of athletes per group is reduced to 4 until only two groups remain. Each category will have 1 gold, 1 silver and 2 bronze medallists.

3.2 Competition System Karate World Championships

The Karate World Championships Competition System is composed of 2 phases: the Group Phase (Round-robin - Rr) and Elimination Phase with no repechage

Group Phase (R-r)

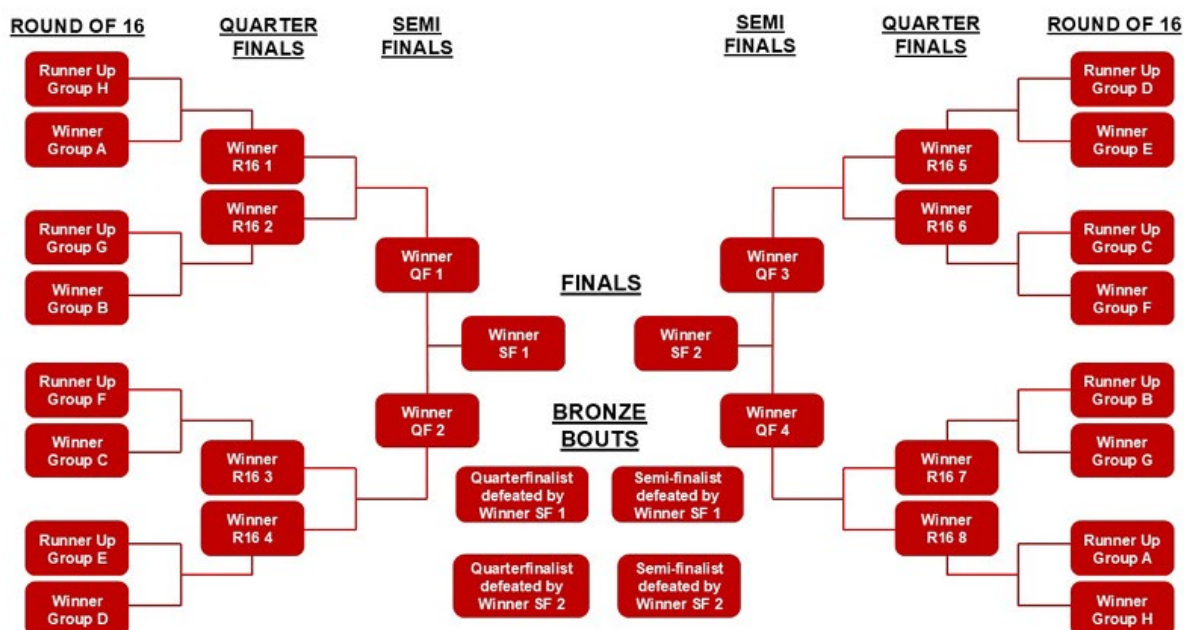

The number of groups depends on the final participation. Each group will always have a maximum of 4 athletes and a minimum of 3 athletes. The group phase will be conducted in a Round-Robin system.

The group winners and their runners-up will qualify for the Elimination Phase.

Elimination Phase

After the Group Phase, the group winners and their runners-up will move to the Elimination Phase where each athlete has 1 bout per round and the winners continue on while the losers are eliminated. In total, there are 4 elimination rounds: the first elimination round – called Round of 16, the Quarterfinals, the Semifinals, and the Medal Bouts.

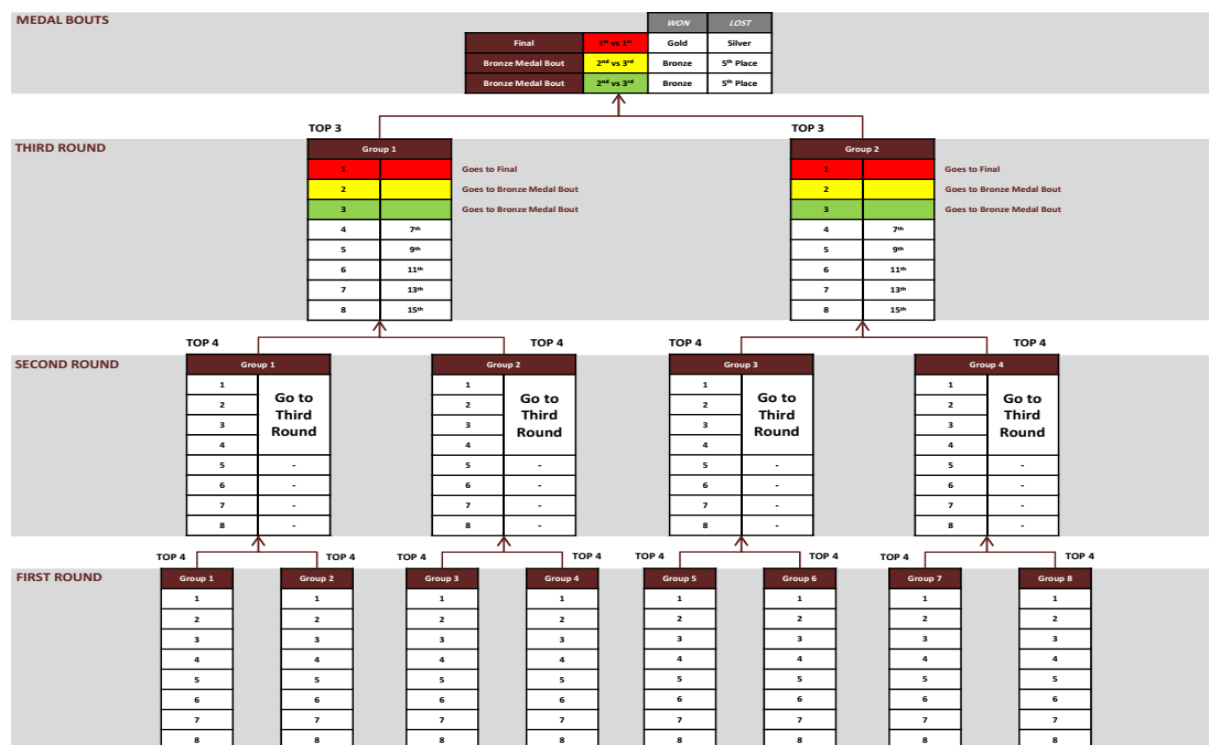

The winners of the Semi-finals will compete in the final, while the two Semi-finals losers, along with the two quarterfinalists defeated by the finalists, will compete in the bronze medal bouts, as is shown in the following brackets:

- R16: Round of 16
- QF: Quarter-Finalist
- SF: Semi-Finalist

3.3 Competition System Para-Karate World Championships

The competition will follow the eight-group format. Each group consists of 8 to 12 athletes competing as described in the following chart.

28. THE HOST CITY

28.1 About Cairo

Cairo is the capital and largest city of Egypt. The Cairo metropolitan area, with a population of 21.3 million, is the largest metropolitan area in the Arab world, the second largest in Africa, and the sixth largest in the world. Cairo is associated with ancient Egypt, as the famous Giza pyramid complex and the ancient city of Memphis are located in its geographical area. Located near the Nile Delta, Cairo was founded in 969 AD during the Fatimid dynasty, but the land composing the present-day city was the site of Ancient National Capitals whose remnants remain visible in parts of Old Cairo. Cairo has long been a centre of the region's political and cultural life, and is titled "the city of a thousand minarets" for its preponderance of Islamic architecture.

29. HOW TO GET TO THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

29.1 By Air

The most common way to get to Cairo from other countries is by air.

The local airline is Egyptair, but most European airlines have direct connections to Cairo.

It is also possible to fly within Egypt, but only Egyptair flights operate in this case. CAIRO INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT is the most important airport in Egypt and the second busiest airport in Africa.

It consists of three terminals, all of which are connected by a free shuttle bus that runs all day.

Located about 22 kilometres from the city centre, there are several options for getting there.

29.2 By Bus

This is the cheapest way to travel from Cairo Airport to the city centre, specifically to Tahir Square.

There are two lines available: line 400 24 hours a day and line 500 until 22:00 h.

Frequency is 20 minutes.

Cairo Airport Shuttle Bus:

This is a direct minibus service, operating from 06:00 to 23:00 h.

They depart from Terminals 1 and 3 and stop in the centre and outskirts of Cairo, including Heliopolis, Giza, Zamalek and Haram.

Prices vary according to destination. Check the official website for routes and book in advance.

Taxi:

Taxis are one of the most convenient ways to travel from Cairo Airport to the city centre but be aware of the different types of taxis.

Black and white taxis require you to agree on a fare before you travel.

Transfers:

Finally, there is the alternative of pre-arranging a transfer from Cairo Airport to your hotel.

The advantage is that they are already priced and can be booked in advance.

City transportation:

City transportation in Cairo is provided by metro, bus, taxis (UBER, CAREEM), and minibuses.

Metro is the most preferred public transport, but the most popular and convenient among tourists is to hire a daily taxi.

In Cairo, the metro is the most preferred means of transportation by people. The metro lines which have been in operation since 1987, are expanded each year as the city expanded and nowadays have a large network covering almost the whole city. You can travel around in the fastest way by using the metro line which has 61 stations, 3 of which are transfer stations.

Cairo has a large public transport network with city buses, Mwasalat Misr buses, and minibuses serving in the city. Many bus lines stop in the city center, such as Ramsis Station. You can find vans almost everywhere but they are usually very crowded and not so comfortable.

Mwasalat Misr is a private company and has its own buses and transportation services that they provide in a wide area in the city.

Taxis (UBER, CAREEM) are the most popular way of transportation in Cairo for tourists.

With the choice of many private taxi companies, you can hire taxis for your trip plan and choose the one that suits you best in price. Many different brands are giving private transportation services in Cairo, but also you can find an official taxi to go around.

Prices may differ but you have a chance to negotiate with the drivers.

30. PRACTICAL INFORMATION

30.1 Opening Hours (Shop/Pharmacies)

There are currently four mobile network operators in Egypt: (Orange, Vodafone, Etisalat, and We).

Country calling code:

- Country calling code: +20
- Trunk prefix: 0
- International call prefix: 00

Upon your arrival to the airport you will find a telecommunications agents who will offer you freemobile SIM cards.

30.2 Currency

The official currency of Egypt is the Egyptian Pound (EGP).

30.3 Electricity

For Egypt there are two associated plug types C and F. Plug type C is the plug which has two round pins and plug type F is the plug which has two round pins with two earth clips on the side. Egypt operates on a 220V supply voltage and 50Hz.

30.4 Time

The time zone is:

Curent: UTC/GMT
Offset: +2 hours

30.5 Weather

In Cairo the weather in November is generally perfect, with low temperatures and rainfall in some days. Daytime temperatures hover around 25°C, while nights can cool down to about 17°C.

There is a meduim rain in Egypt during November, so it's a lot easier to explore the city. Just remember to dress in warm layers, as it can still get pretty chilly.

Our weather forecast can give you a great sense of what weather to expect in Egypt in Novmber 2025.
